THE TRUTH ABOUT THOSE DELEGATES

Roosevelt Contests Instigated to Deceive the Public.

KENTUCKY.

Seventh District.

In the Seventh Kentucky district the total vote of the convention was 115. There were contests from four counties, involving ninety-five votes. According to the rules of the party in Kentucky, where two seats of credentials are presented those delegates whose credentials are approved by the county chairman are entitled to participate in the temporary organization. On the temporary roll the Taft chairman was elected by ninety-eight votes and forty-seven votes were cast for the Roosevelt candidate. The committee on credentials was then appointed, consisting of one member named by each county delegation. The majority report of the committee was adopted unanimously by the convention, no delegation whose seats were contested being permitted to vote on its own case. As soon as the majority report of the credentials committee had been adopted, the Roosevelt adherents bolted. There was not the slightest reason for sustaining the contest for Roosevelt delegates.

Eighth District.

The Eighth Kentucky district was composed of ten counties having 163 votes, of which eighty-two were necessary to a choice. There was no contest in five of the counties, and although the Roosevelt men claimed that there was one in Spencer county no contest was presented against the seating of the regularly elected Taft delegates from that county. This gave the Taft delegates eighty-four votes, or two more than were necessary for a choice. In other words, assuming that the Roosevelt men were entitled to all the delegates from the counties in which they filed contests in the district convention there remained a clear majority of uncontested delegates who voted for the Taft delegates to Chicago.

OKLAHOMA.

Third District.

In the Third Oklahoma district the question of the validity of the seats of the delegates turned on the constitution of the congressional committee, which was made up of twelve Taft men and seven Roosevelt men. The chairman, Cochran, was a Roosevelt man and attempted to prevent the majority of the committee from taking action. The chairman was removed and another substituted, and thereupon the convention was duly called to order on the temporary roll prepared by the congressional committee, which was made the permanent roll, and the two Taft delegates to Chicago were duly selected. Every county in the district had its representation and vote in the regular convention, and no person properly accredited as a delegate was excluded or debarred from participating in its proceedings. Cochran and his followers bolted after his deposition. Assuming that all the committee who went out with him had the right to act on the committee, it left the committee standing twelve for Taft and seven for Roosevelt, so it was simply a question whether a majority of the committee had the right to control its action or a minority. The bolting convention which Cochran held was not attended by a majority of the duly elected delegates to the convention. It did not have the credentials from the various counties, and its membership was largely made up of bystanders who had not been duly accredited by any county in the district. Its action was entirely without authority.

TENNESSEE.

Second District.

In the Second Tennessee district there were fifty-nine delegates uncontested out of a possible total of 108 in the convention. There were forty-nine contested. The Roosevelt contestants in the forty-nine refused to abide the decision of the committee on credentials and withdrew, leaving fifty-nine uncontested delegates. These fifty-nine delegates, part of whom were Roosevelt men, remained in the convention, appointed the proper committees, settled contests and proceeded to select Taft delegates. There can be no question about the validity therefore of their title.

TEXAS.

First District.

The only remaining districts are the nine districts from Texas. Of these the First district was composed of eleven counties, each county having one vote, except Cass county, which had two. The executive committee, composed of one representative from each county, made up the temporary roll, and in the contests filed from two counties seated both delegates with one-half vote each. The convention elected the two Taft delegates, giving them ten and one-quarter votes. Each county was represented in this vote. A minority representing one and three-quarters votes bolted the regular convention and held a rump meeting. The national committee by unanimous vote decided the contest in favor of the Taft delegate.

Second District.

In the Second Texas district there were fourteen counties. Two counties were found not to have held conventions and one county to have no delegate present. The convention was then constituted by the delegations that held regular credentials. The report of the committee on credentials was accepted upon roll call, and then the representatives of five counties withdrew from the hall. The representatives of four of these counties held a rump convention. The regular convention remained in session several hours, appointed the usual committees, which retired and made their reports, which were accepted, and elected two Taft delegates to the national convention and certified their election in due form to the national committee, which without division asked for, held them properly elected.

Fourth District.

The Fourth Texas district consists of five counties, each having one vote in the district convention under the call. One county, Rains, chose an uncontested delegation, and that one was for Taft. The other four counties sent contesting delegations. The contesting delegations appeared before the congressional executive committee to present their claims, but the committee arbitrarily refused to hear anybody. Having exhausted every effort to secure a hearing, the four contesting delegations, together with the only uncontested delegation of the convention, withdrew to another place and held a convention and elected Taft delegates to the Chicago convention. The congressional convention which elected the Taft delegates was composed of more than a majority, and, indeed, of practically all the regularly elected delegates. The national committee held the title of the Taft delegates to their seats valid by viva voce vote without calling for a division.

Fifth District.

The Fifth district of Texas is composed of Dallas, Ellis, Hill, Bosque and Rockwall counties. Dallas county cast more Republican votes than all the other counties of the district put together. The call for the congressional convention allowed each county to send not to exceed four delegates, but made no reference to the basis of representation of the respective counties composing the district. There was a contest from Dallas county, but the Taft delegates were seated. Taft delegates were seated on the temporary roll from two counties, and Roosevelt delegates from the three counties, and the representation in the convention was fixed at one vote for each county without regard to the number of delegates in the convention or the number of Republican votes cast in such county. A minority report of the district committee was presented, protesting against the ratio of representation adopted. The chairman of the convention objected to the presentation of this minority report. Failing in this he abandoned the platform and left the hall.

The convention thereupon elected a new chairman and a new secretary, appointed a committee on credentials, which recommended the seating of the Taft delegates from Hill county and the adoption of the minority report of the district committee as to the basis of the representation in the convention. Both these recommendations were adopted, and Taft delegates to the national convention were thereupon elected by a vote of eight to three. The Roosevelt men thereafter retired to the south end of the hall, where they organized a meeting at which it was claimed the Roosevelt delegates to the national convention were elected. The Republican vote for the district for 1908 was as follows: Dallas county, 2,068; Ellis, 594; Hill, 414; Bosque, 266; Rockwall, 38. Both the national committee and the committee on credentials sustained the Taft delegates.

Seventh District.

The Seventh congressional district of Texas is composed of the following counties: Anderson, Chambers, Galveston, Houston, Liberty, Polk, San Jacinto and Trinity. Polk, San Jacinto and Trinity were without proper party organization. In Texas county chairmen must be elected by the voters in each party. No such election was held in any of these three counties. In two of them Colonel Lyon assumed to appoint chairmen, which he had no right to do. Lyon himself had classed these three counties as unorganized and without party organization.

The convention met in Galveston. The executive committee met prior to the meeting of the convention to make up the temporary roll of delegates. The executive committee had before it the question of having the three unorganized counties represented in the convention. The executive committee refused to recognize them. When this action was taken by the executive committee a delegate from Houston county and the alleged representatives from the three unorganized counties withdrew from the meeting and proceeded to organize another convention, and upon this is based the contest, which was rejected by both committees, the national committee and the credentials committee.

Eighth District.

In the Eighth congressional convention a split occurred over the majority and minority reports of the executive committee as to the temporary roll. The Roosevelt followers controlled the executive committee, but did not have a majority in the convention, which adopted the minority report and gave Taft five and one-half votes and Roosevelt two and one-half votes. This resulted in the election of the Taft delegates, who were seated by both the national committee and the credentials committee.

Tenth District.

In the Tenth district the decision turned largely upon the bad faith with which two members of the district committee voted in the seating of delegates and upon the bad faith with which one of them used the proxy intrusted to him. The Taft delegates in this case bolted and left the hall and immediately in the same building organized another convention which consisted of delegates from six counties. Proceedings were regularly held; a permanent organization effected, the report of the committee on resolutions adopted and delegates pledged to Taft were elected. The undisputed evidence indicated that a flagrant attempt had been made to deprive Taft of this district, to which he was justly entitled. The national committee sustained the title of the Taft delegates and alternates by a practically unanimous vote.

Fourteenth District.

In the Fourteenth district there were fifteen counties in the district. When the executive committee met at San Antonio to make up the temporary roll there were ten members of the committee present whose right to act was undisputed, of whom six were for Taft and four for Roosevelt. There were four other Roosevelt men present whose right to vote was disputed and who were clearly not entitled to represent their county at that meeting. One of them held the proxy of the committeeman from Kendall county, who was dead, and the proxies from three other counties were held, two by postmasters and one by an assistant postmaster, while under the election law of Texas no one who holds an office of profit or trust under the United States shall act as a member of an executive committee either for the state or for any district or county. The temporary roll was made up by Taft members, having a clear majority without permitting these men to act under their proxies. There was a contest over the delegation from Bexar county, which contains the city of San Antonio. Full consideration was given to this contest, but the testimony was overwhelming that Taft carried the county by a vote of four or five to one. On the proper basis the total vote in the district convention was sixty-seven, of which the number instructed or voting for Taft was thirty-seven and one-half, the number voting or instructed for Roosevelt twenty-eight and one-half, not voting one. The Taft delegation was therefore seated at Chicago.

CONCLUSION.

The purpose of this resume of the contests in which there was any shadow of substance has been to inform those who have not time or inclination to read the longer and more detailed account of them contained in the larger pamphlet. It is not essential to make Mr. Taft's title indisputable that all men agree on every one of the issues raised. They were decided by the tribunals which uniform party usage had made the proper tribunals to decide such contests. If those tribunals acted in good faith mistaken judgment would not invalidate their decisions. As a matter of fact, an examination of the facts show that the tribunals were right in every instance. There is not the slightest evidence that they were moved by other than a mere desire to reach a right conclusion. On the other hand, the action of the Roosevelt men in bringing 160 contests that they promptly abandoned strongly tended to show the lack of good faith in the prosecution of all of them. Those who support President Taft can well afford to stand on the record in this case and to asseverate without fear of successful contradiction that the delegates whose seats were contested were as fairly seated in this convention as in any in the history of the party.

THE DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION

A ONE MAN PARTY.

"Progressive Party" is certainly a high sounding designation—a catchy name that may take well with followers of political myths—but it is not altogether appropriate for the new party which has been launched with much flourish of trumpets. A much more appropriate name would have been the "Roosevelt Party." This name would more particularly describe and designate it.

Never before in all our political history has a movement of national scope been set up which in its inception was so completely personal as is this one. Roosevelt is the only man who has attained anything approximating the first rank in public life who is committed to it. If we look for the impulse, the guidance and the control of the movement, we find them all centering in Roosevelt. But for him and his all consuming ambition for a third term in the presidential chair, we should never have heard of such a movement. True, there might—and probably would—have been the usual strifes between factions or rival candidates at the Chicago convention, as there were at Baltimore, but there certainly would have been no bolt nor revolt against the action of the convention.

Even today, eliminate Roosevelt from the movement and it would immediately collapse. It is entirely a personal movement, and the party is in reality a one man party. Roosevelt is not merely the leader, he is the inspiration, the sustaining force and the undsputed boss of the entire project.

It requires no inspired prophet to foretell the inevitable end of such a movement. No man has ever lived who was big enough and commanding enough to swing the majority of the American people in any movement based on his personal ambition and a desire for the advancement of his personal fortunes. No man has ever yet been able to make a great political party for himself.

A CLEAR STATEMENT OF FACTS.

In this issue of the Times-Gazette is concluded the publication of a condensed resume of a statement issued by the Republican National Committee, giving to the public a complete statement of the proceedings of both the Republican National Committee and the National Convention in the decision of the cases of contests over seats of delegates to the Chicago convention. The complete statement, which is a lengthy document of nearly 150 pages of printed matter, presents a complete refutation of the charge that the renominaiton of President Taft was secured by the fraudulent seating of delegates favorable to him. This statement, in its entirety, considers individually each of the 238 contests instituted by the third term forces against the Taft delegates, and presents uncontrovertible evidence showing the regularity of the election of the Taft delegates. In due course of time this entire statement will undoubtedly be given general circulation, and when placed in the hands of the people should be given careful and dispassionate consideration. In the meantime we can but urge that the resume of the statement which has been submitted be read especially by every voter who claims allegience to the Republican party.

That the fact as set forth in the statement be given their proper weight by the reader, we desire especially to call attention to a few facts surrounding the events leading up to the final action of the National convention. At the outset, the national committee which primarily acted upon the contests was elected four years ago, at the time when Mr. Roosevelt was the dominant power in the party and the men composing the committee met his approval. Without exception they were men eminent in the party and strong in the confidence of the Republicans of the State from which they were elected. Is it conceivable that these men have all, or at least with a few exceptions, within the short space of four years become so lost to that political integrity which marked their past lves as to commit the serious crime against the party and nation of which they have been accused by the third term aspirant and his followers.

Again, let it be remembered that at the suggestion of Mr. Taft, the hearing of the contests before the national committee was open to the public, which was given an opportunity to secure full knowledge of all evidence presented. This procedure was a departure from the customs of the past, in both the great national parties, where all preliminary contests had been held in the secrecy of executive sessions. This stand on the part of Taft would seem to indicate a disposition to deal honestly with the issues.

Another fact which should be born in mind in considering this issue is the unquestioned personal honesty ofPresident Taft. No one—not even his bitterest political enemy—has ever doubted his integrity. There may be differences of opinion as to the wisdom of some of hisacts—there have been such differences of opinion as to the acts of every president from the time of Washington—but no reasoning man has doubted the honesty and sincerity of President Taft's purposes. Indeed, it has been charged to him as a political fault that his judicial temperment impels him to consider both sides of a question and to decide upon the evidence, regardless of the fact that the decision may be detrimental to his own interests. It is hardly reasonable to suppose that a man of such character would attempt to benefit by a deliberate theft.

Blackburn Scores Opponents.

Editor Times-Gazette:—My attention has been called to an item in the Pescadero correspondence of the Democrat stating that the prosecution would like to have seen another trial.

This is no doubt true with three or four, and especially with C. V. Thompson and Carl Coburn. The reason for this is that I was completely exonerated and they were left, Codurn a confessed thief and Thompson a viscious wife beater, a man that would be whipped at the post in many states.

The vile and malicious tactics that these two have practiced is enough for any community to drive them out, and it is about time our community take action in the matter.

Yours very truly,
D. E. BLACKBURN.

Pescadero, August 10, 1912.

INCREASE IN LOCAL REALTY VALUATION

Report of City Assessor Shows Addition of $235,897 to City Assessment Values

At the adjourned meeting of the city council last Monday evening, which was attended by a full board, the trustees unanimously went on record as opposed to the expenditure of public money of the city for publicity purposes unless evidence could be given of the achievement of results of direct local benefit. This stand was taken as the result of the presentation of a communication from Manager Fuller of the San Mateo County Development Association urging that the city renew its pledge of $25 per month to the funds of the association for another year., Trustee Hynding was the first to voice opposition to the request, expressing the opinion that the work of the association so far had failed to secure results of material benefit. While he admitted that several good projects had been undertaken, some of which had held out excellent promises of benefit, these had so far failed of fruition. While admitting that the association had worked under serious difficulties and expressing a readiness to allow a reasonable extension of time in which the ability to secure results might be shown, Trustee Deleau opposed any action which would commit the city to the expenditure of the amount requested for an entire year. After explaining some of the causes which had led to delay in several important projects,. Chairman Merrill urged that the city continue its encouragement of the work which promised considerableadvantages to the county in general. Os a final expression of the sentiments of the council, a motion offered by Trustee Hahir that the contribution of $25 per month be continued at the option of the council was adopted.

The retail liquor license for the saloon at 327 Main street was ordered transferred to Thompson & Hughes.

A map of the "Roosevelt Oaks" subdivision, a resurvey of a portion of the ,Wooster, Whitton & Montgomery subdivision of Redwood Farm, was presented and after investigation was laid over under the rule until the next meeting for final action.

Street Superintendent Dickey reported that satisfactory progress was being made by the contractor in the street work in district 17. At his suggestion he was given authority to lay new water mains in Allerton and Warren streets, between Brewster and Alden, and a sewer in Alden street to connect with the present sewer leading into Arguello street.

At the suggestion of Trustee Hynding the street superintendent was instructed to present at the next meeting a list of property in the old street improvement district in front of which curbs had not been constructed. In making this suggestion Trustee Hynding explained that it was his intention to urge the improvement of the streets in that section early next spring and explained that the expense of construction curbs would be less irksome if provided in advance of the street work.

This completing the city business on hand the council adjourned and reconvened as a board of equalization. This session, however, was rather brief, no one appearing to make objection to the work of the assessor, which seems to have been generally satisfactory.

As presented by Assessor W. H. Kelso, the assessment roll shows a total increase in the valuation of the property of the city of $235,-897 as compared with that of last year, the present total being $2,-081, 965. This is divided among the various classes of property listed as follows: Real estate, $1,159,-290; improvements, $589,940; personal property, $219,130; operative prroperty of public service corporations, $113,605. According to last year's roll the valuations were as follows: Real estate, $1,016,042; improvements, $588,304; personal property, $146,340; operative property, $95,400. From these figures it will be seen that by far the greater portion of the increase in valuation has been in the item of real estate, the amount of this increase being $143,248.

In explaining his work to the trustees, W. H. Kelso, who made up the assessment roll, stated that from lack of time he had made but partial attempts at equalization of values. To complete this work in a really satisfactory manner, he explained, would require several months of investigation.

Conrt Affirms Clerk's Decision.

Judge Buck on Tuesday rendered an opinion denying the writ of mandate asked for by J. C. McGovern in the case of J. C. McGovern against County Clerk Jos. H. Nash. On July 29th Mr. McGovern left his nomination petition for supervisor of the First township on the Democratic ticket with Clerk Nash with instructions to file it. When McGovern arrived at his home in South San Francisco he decided not to make the run for the office and telephoned the clerk to withdraw his petition and return same. This was the last day in which the petition could be filed. Some time subsequently McGovern returned and asked the clerk to file the petition but Mr. Nash refused to comply with the request. The plaintiff then brought suit to compel the clerk to file said petition. The court upheld the contention of the officer to the effect that the time having passed for filing such petitions there was no legal way in which said document could be filed.

COUNTRY'S DEFENDERS IN CAMP AT REDWOOD

The Sixth and Sixteenth regiments under command of Colonel Cornelius Gardner, and two troops of state cavalry arrived in town at noon yesterday and went into camp at the end of Phelps street and will leave this morning for San Jose. There were 4000 men in all in camp which gave the southern end of the city a decided military appearance. The army is out on maneuvers and is receiving much valuable experience. Colonel Gardener when seen by a Times-Gazett man yesterday said:

"We are not a force of men at play. We are a force of men endeavoring to best discover how to protect the thousands in case of conflict. And we never can tell when the conflict will come.

Iwould like to impress this fact upon the public. If an enemy ever lands upon our shores to attack San Francisco from the land side it will leave transports as a logical thing where the present mythical enemy is landing from mythical ships, and in real war the same field would be covered.

"With both our armies are trained umpires. These are sizing up the situation as circumstances would be in the case of actual war. Officers and men who go through these maneuvers will be capable, in case San Francisco ever is attacked, of posing as experts on how best to defend it. The maneuvers are a study and science, and not play."

The soldiers are a fine body of men, the flower of the country, well drilled and a gentlemanly lot. A band concert was given last evening at camp and was enjoyed by the large number of civilians who had gathered to hear the catchy music rendered by Uncle Sam's men.

Judge Lampkin Hits 'Em Hard.

A number of automobile speeders, arrestd by Motorcycle Policemen Brown and Martenstein, were fined by Justice of the Peace H. W. Lampkin Thursday. B. Becker, chauffeur for L. B. Parramount, a San Francisco contractor, was fined $20; James Schroeder, driving a Doctor Gould of Monterey, who said he was going to see a sick sister in San Jose, was fined $30; A. Buckins, chauffeur for a San Francisco real estate firm, was compelled to pay $35, and the case of Alfred Wehe, an Oakland realty operator, was continued to August 29th.

The usual services will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday. At the morning service the pastor will take for his subject "Obedience Rewarded;" in the evening, "The Fate of the Rich Young Man."

California produced the finest champaigne at the internaitonal exhibit at Turin and was awarded "Grand Prix," highest premium.

Heretofore Americans were accustomed to pay exorbitant prices for foreign wines, but in the future Californians—like all Americans—should patronize the home merchants in order that he be encouraged to develop this industry, which will bring and keep thousands of people and millions of dollars within our State. Besides, they can now get the best quality wine at a much lower price.

That Mrs. Lillian L. Moore, widow of J. J. Moore, capitalist and clubman, was killed by R. S. Timothy in a pistol duel last January, effected a good settlement in compromising the will contest with Jefferson Moore, only son of the deceased, was revealed yesterday when the appraisers rported to Super-Judge Geo. H. Buck of Redwood City that the entire value of the estate was $155,126.69.

The widow, who was willed $1, received $31,500 in cash and property valued at about $20,000.

Her full widow's share would have amounted to only one-half of the estate.

It was generally supposed the estatewould total in the neighborhood of $250,000. The low value of the estate is said to be disappointing to young Moore.

The report of the appraisers, William Mainland, Arthur Page and R. F. Chilcott, shows that the Moore holdings consist of $31,-613.40 in cash., $2,500 in Shasta real estate and 2,496 shares of the J. J. Moore Company, valued at about$199,895.89. Other stock of minor value makes up the total of $155,126.69.

NEW FREIGHT LINE MAY BE ESTABLISHED

Captain Ferguson Offers to Provide Water Transportation to San Franciaco.

With a fair attendance of members, several important matters of business were considered by the Board of Trade at its regular meeting Tuesday evening. President P. A. Ryan presided and Secretary A. Kincaid was at his desk.

A communication was presented from Captain R. L. Ferguson of San Francisco offering the merchants of Redwood City an opportunity to secure the advantage of water competition with the Southern Pacific freight rates. Captain Ferguson informed the Board that he was considering the placing of a power freight vessel on a regular run between this city and vide a vessel of sufficiently light San Francisco. He designed to prodraught to enable the navigation of Redwood Creek at all times and inquired as to the possible amount of freight which he could be assured. Apparently the merchants present were satisfied with the freight rates fixed by the railway or were not over confident of the stability of the proposed water enterprise, as the communication failed to receive action.

In a communication, Senator Perkins acknowledged the receipt of a telegram from President Ryan urging favorable action on the bill providing for free tolls for coastwise vessels through the Panama Canal and promised his support to the measure.

A resolution was presented by D. R. Stafford to amend the by-laws of the Board so as to change the meeting night from the second to the first Tuesday in each month. Under the rules of the Board, this resolution will come up for final action at the next meeting.

At the suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, a resolution was adopted favoring the ceeding by the State to that city of jurisdiction over the water front and harbor improvements, and requesting the representative from this county to the next legislature to assist in the passage of a measure for that purpose.

A set of by-laws and regulations providing for the formation of the commercial and credit section of the Board of Trade was adopted. These laws permit the merchants of the city to provide for the general regulation of their business associatnions and to provide methods for protection against delinquent creditors.

At the suggestion of H. C. Tuchsin an effort is to be made to secure complete data as to the shipping passing over Redwood creek, in order that accurate information may be placed in the hands of the officials of the engineer corps of the War Department. To this end, Secretary Kincaid was instructed to make an effort to secure regular reports from masters or owners of all freight vessels plying on the waterway of freight carried. These reports are to be presented at ach meeting of the Board of Trade and are to be compiled for submission to the government officials as desired. In urging this work Mr. Tuchsin stated that he did so at the suggestion of Colonel Biddle, who had signified a readiness to cooperate in securing such improvements to Redwood Creek as conditions might justify.

After the close of the Board of Trade meeting a session of the commercial section was held for the purpose of completing that organization. D. R. Stafford was elected as president and Archer Kincaid as secretary of the subsidary organization, with P. P. Chamberlain, A. D. Walsh, E. P. Heise and G. P. Hull as the executive committee. As far as concerns the general public, the chief regulation decided upon by the merchants was the days upon which their places of business will not be opened. Under this regulation all stores will be closed all day on Sundays and on New Years, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. On De coration Day, Labor Day and Admission day the stores will close at noon. At all other time, places of business will close in the evening at 6 o'clock except upon special arrangement.

SENATORIAL ASPIRANT IS FARMER-LAWYER

Though a practicing lawyer in Santa Cruz, John H. Leonard, candidate for State Senator on the Democratic ticket lives and conducts a large farm on the outskirts of that city. A big man physically the narrow confines of a city lot never appealed to him. "I must have room to breathe," he says. His vacation is spent in the hay fields and his boast is that he can pitch hay as wellyy as the next farmer. He drives to his office day in and day out—save during the harvest—and the sight of his old horse and old rig is afamiliar one along the county roads of Santa Cruz. He has been urged to buy himself a runabout but for the time being "Big John" shakes his head. "You see," he said, "that old horse has been with me so long and has become so accustomed to ambling down to the office with me that if I was to stop driving him now he would simply curl up and die of ennui."

JUDGE BUCK CONSERVES BEAR GULCH WATER

The injunction suit of the Bear Gulch Water Company against P. H. McEvoy, supervisor of the third township was tried before Judge Buck yesterday. A temporary injunction was issued by the court some time ago preventing the supervisor from using water of the company for sprinkling purposes. Several witnesses were examined. It was shown that the 450 consumers of the water company were using 18,000,000 gallons per month while the amount running into the lake was 15,000,000. It was shown that there were 70,000,000 gallons in the lake. C. N. Felton, presidentofthe company stated on the witness stand that there were only 11 miner's inches of water flowing into the lake at the present time, while at thistime last year there were 33 inches. After hearing the evidence the court modified the injunction so that Mr. McEvoy could use 100,000 gallons of water a month to sprinkle the main county road from the San Francisquito creek to Redwood City. At the suggestion of McEvoy the court permitted that he may use a portion of the water on the Woodside road. The court intimated that if it wereshown that the lake was low a month hence he would grant the permanent injunction as prayed for. Ross & Ross and Mr. Mannon, of the lawfirm of Page, McCutchen, Knight and Olney appeared for the water company and District Attorney Swart represented the defendant.

MISS ALEXANDER IS THE BRIDE OF CHARLES STUTZ

At a pretty home wedding solemnized at 7:30 Saturday evening, Miss Mabel Alexander of this city became the bride of Charles Stutz of Fresno. The service was read by the Rev. Alonzo Brown of the Methodist church, and the guests included only the relatives and a few of the bride's closest friends. Miss Stella Alexander was the maid of honor and the groom was attended by Chester Mero as best man. Immediately following the ceremony the young pair departed for Lake Tahoe. Their wedding journey will also take them to Oregon, where they will be the guests of the groom's parents. Upon their return they will reside in Fresno, where the groom holds a responsible position as representative of the Dunham, Carrigan & Hayden Hardware Company. The bride, who is one of this city's most lovable girls, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Alexander, pioneers of Santa Clara county, the family having resided for many years at Lawrence. Since coming here about seven years ago, the bride has been employed in the office of the county recorder and later with the Johnston Abstract Company. She has made a host of friends in her business relations, as well as socially, and will be greatly missed.

ALMADAS HERRERT ESCAPES NOOSE BY PLEADING GUITLY

Almedas Hebert who shot his wife, Victoria Hebert, down in cold blood at San Mateo on June 16th last will spend the remainder of his life in San Quentin. Hebert saved the county the expense of a trial last Friday by pleading guilty. He was ordered to appear Monday at 1:30 for sentence.

When the defendant appeared for sentence District Attorney Swart presented the evidence taken at the preliminary examination for the court's consideration. Hebert was asked if he desired to make a statement and he began by accusing his wife of infidelity. In the divorce suit which she had filed against him the defendant said that her charges were untrue, and when she finally served the divorce summons on him he lost his head for the instant and not knowing what he was doing shot the woman down.

Attorney Austin, who defended Hebert, made a plea for leniency after which the court pronounced sentence briefly, consigning Hebert to San Quentin for life.

ROBBER ENTERS PREMISES AND STEALS COIN AND GUN

A bold robber entered the rooming house of Antone Genochio on Holder stret Monday forenoon and made off with $15 and a revolver. He was heard ransacking the rooms by a young man named Goularte and when confronted by the latter the robber, holding the stolen weapon in his hand, backed out of the front door. Both were badly frightened. When the robber made his exit Goularte fled through the back door and alarmed Philip Genochio who loaded up a shotgun and starter in persuit of the thief, but he was then out of sight. Goularte could not give an accurate description of him and when the sheriff was notified, after a long delay, he was unable to catch the thief.

POLITICIAN WHO CHANGED HIS MIND TOO OFTEN.

J. C. McGovern, the South City destist who had the political bee in his bonnet, will not run for office this year. Dr. McGovern circulated a petition for the Democratic nomination for supervisor and on July 29th presented his petition to Clerk Nash. Immediately after returning home he phoned Mr. Nash not to file it and followed this up with a letter to the same effect. When the time had passed for filing petitions McGovern changed mind and demanded that his petition be filed. Mr. Nash refused to accept the petition and McGovern appealed to the court for an order compelling the clerk to place his name on the ballot. After hearing the testimony Judge Buck upheld the clerk in the position taken by him and ruled against McGovern.

The World's Record Holders
Remington-UMC .22 cal. cartridges have broken two records in two years. The present world's 100-shot gallery record, 2484 ex 2500, held by Arthur Hubalek, was made with these hard hitting .22's.
They will help you, too, to break your best shooting records.
Made with the same care from the same tested materials as the heaviest big game cartridges.
Remington-UMC .22's are made, too, with hollow point bullets. This increases their shocking and killing power.
Look for the red ball on every box you buy.

To Please the Palate
is our aim in serving meat—to retain the fine flavor Nature bestows, not to let it go to waste, as some meatshops do. With prolonging this true tale, it may be set down for a fact that here is to be found a first-class place to purchase beef, mutton, lamb, ham, poultry and game, to give your table good credit with household and guest.
